LAUGHTER FOR THE NEW AGE

WRITTEN, DESIGNED, AND PRODUCED

BALANCE

The End Days scenario could mean disaster for life on Earth or it might mean the end of one era and the beginning of a new golden era. Who could honestly say which? Look around you at our world. Everything is rapidly changing and to resist change causes unbalance. Mother Earth will seek balance either with or without us

OFFICE OF LORD SANANDA

Look Madam!
I don't care
what it said in Rampsang
Lobsa's book!
Ascension
wise
That's how it is!!!

I DID IT MY WAY

We all tend to cling to tradition and to traditional ways of doing things and thinking about things. The same tends to apply for some when we think about ascension. Several decades ago, and before 'New age' thought became widespread, metaphysical and esoteric knowledge was the province of profound thinkers whose numbers were few when compared to the countless numbers of mankind most of who were intimidated by the esoteric phraseology used. In these modern times much of this knowledge has been greatly simplified to make it understandable to a very wide range of people throughout the world. Simplicity allows awareness to be triggered in the many, but some writers seem prefer to make Ascension Process knowledge more complicated that it really is. Don't allow yourself to be intimidated

WHEN, WHEN, OH WHEN?

We the authors first gained knowledge of the Ascension Process via noisy copies sent from the USA of the Eric Klein tape-recorded channelling and this was during 1991. The question on everyone's lips was, "How long would it take us to ascend, when, when, when?" Lord Sananda replied that he didn't know how long because the Prime Creator had not revealed a date. Since those early days we have learnt just what is involved and we realize that ascension dates are irrelevant to our progress as individuals. It certainly appeals to our sense of the ridiculous the idea of trying to pin down definite dates from beings that exist in a timeless dimension.

UNIQUENESS WITH A MOP AND BUCKET

The annoying thing about illusion is that it is so convincing. Even in the full knowledge that all is really structured energy this knowledge is unhelpful if you drop an illusory rock on your illusory foot. The pain you feel is anything but illusory. This is the ongoing challenge that seekers on the path to ascension have to face....To firmly believe in the unseen whilst existing amid the seen.

GLAMOUR TRIPPERS

A lower opinion of self, induced by doubt of self may trap some folks into seeking a glamorous image of self. Blind to their own ongoing present day uniqueness they seek to bask in reflected glory by linking their past reincarnations to those of famous historical characters. Probably if they were able to meet those characters of the past they would discover that they also felt similar doubts of self.

AFTER MY ASCENSION WILL I.....

In the late nineteen eighties and early nineties when we first heard of the ascension process many seekers had a very limited vision of what to ascend really meant? Even after nearly one and a half decades and with so much more that has been revealed many seekers still fail to envision beyond ascending to the fifth dimension. To ascend to the 5th is simply the next stage of our ongoing evolution or awakening. After we ascend the awakening process continues level by level until we greet our Creator as a friend and an equal before we move on to create our own unique versions of Creation.

GOOD GRIEF!

LORD SANANDA, what is 'ON STRIKE'?

Try to recall what you said on the Eric
Klein tapes

FEEL THE VIBES MAN!

It's easy to laugh and to suspect that seekers are being rather silly and fanciful when they choose to dance around prehistoric menhirs and dolmens, but are they being silly and fanciful? There have always been psychics who can sense the invisible energy flows of ley lines and ley centres. Psychics have been used to select the sites of our great cathedrals, and diviners accurately sense the energies of what ever they seek in the earth. Even those who don't believe in psychic sensitivity may unaccountably feel exhilarated at one location but feel depressed at another location nearby. We know those earth energies exist and that a human with developed sensitivity can sense them and even affect them. In more recent times we have witnessed the advent of enigmatic corn circles. Could these be a form of messages from Mother Earth that have yet to be deciphered by her human occupants? But it would be nice to know what the rocks think about the dancers.

Oh! That poor, poor man. I tried to warn him about the dangers of meditation

EVIL !!!
WICKED !

TELL YOU !!
JESUS SPOKE TO ME

BALANCE ON A BIKE

Oh dear, the years are passing and no Ashtar space fleet has appeared in our skies, if it had appeared it would have been so easy to concentrate upon our ascension. Or would it? More likely we would have clung to visible signs as our basis for belief just as we would have leaned upon ascended masters had they appeared in our midst. A child never really achieves balance on a bicycle until Dad lets go of the saddle. Similarly no one, not even God, could ascend for us; we must do it our selves without crutches or props.

Hard luck
Mr Melchizadek,
Your Merkabah
vehicle insurance
doesn't cover
working around
planet Earth!!!

THE MERKABAH VEHICLE

We learned from the Biblical Enoch about the flexibility of the Merkabah vehicle. The Merkabah can move through all of the dimensions and can encompass and protect an individual human being or expand to encompass many galaxies of stars. Protected by the light of the Merkabah, Enoch was taken to the highest dimensions of Creation and was protected from the very high power-levels of energy and speeds of existence in which highest-level beings exist. The role of the Merkabah is to take the knowledge of the Creator's great plan to everywhere in Creation where intelligent life exists so that no one is to feel excluded from our Creator's love.

WELL! I NEVER!

Why is it that so many folks do not, will not, dare not, use their imagination. They can accept as scientifically proved fact that human bodies are made of atoms, and that atoms are made of whirling energy, but the ramifications of the logical conclusion that each human body is really a matrix of structured energy are too greater leap for their limited imagination. This is why the knowledge of workers for the light is widely needed today to dissolve the fears that stunt the imagination.

ASHTAR COMMAND SICK BAY

Are we leaning or not?

There always is ongoing controversy about the existence of ascended masters. Do they exist or are they simply imaginary products of a human need to have higher beings to lean upon? Is their advice and encouragement instead really received from a channel's higher self? Although viewpoints may differ, it is an undeniable fact that when we ascend we will be ascended masters in our own right. Our physical universe is vast and very ancient, and we could assume that it allows life to evolve to the human level wherever it can, just as it has on planet Earth. We could expand on this assumption to include the possibility that somewhere among those stars out there civilizations have risen to their peak and then have achieved their ascension. Who would then be better qualified to offer us advice and encouragement?

THE BAG LADY KNOWS BEST

In an ever-changing world most of our hurts and disappointments stem from the inflexibility of our plans and expectations. Once we consciously accept into our outlook the undeniable fact that the world is changing we could then dare to allow our outlook to go with the flow of those changes. Flexibility, self trust and courage are the keys that will allow us to escape from our fear of change. So many people cling to what seems safe, solid, and unchangeable whether that is traditional competitive and selfish society or traditional religious dogmatic belief systems. This is a time of tremendous change, and Mankind is unconsciously thirsting and longing for a better, fairer world. Our future is formed from an amalgam of our conscious and unconscious choices made in the past and present. When we cling to our inflexible outlook we are sending mixed signals or choices into our unformed future. Just like our dear old bag lady, learn to live in the 'Now'.

REDUNDANCY

Today we all face challenges to our ancient and revered belief systems, and one of the greatest challenges to face is the realisation that belief in death is now redundant. To believe in reincarnation also requires us to believe that we can never die. Our tired and worn out physical bodies return to Mother Earth and we continue to exist just as we existed before we entered those physical bodies. Again and again countless times we have already reincarnated to continue our search for enlightenment. Once enlightenment has been achieved this clears the way for the next stage of our evolvment. The person that has achieved enlightenment next learns complete control of the energy matrix that forms his or her current physical body. With that learnt control his or her intelligence can accelerate the particles of his or her body's atomic structure to above the level where that energy can remain physical. In our E-book 'Not just how but why' we have explained in detail the purpose and reasons why the unstructured energy of our physical body will be required after we individually have ascended to the fifth dimension and beyond.

When we go to the theatre we expect to sit in the shadowy audience and to be entertained by colourful actors and actresses who will pretend to be what they are not. Both, the cast and the audience know that the play is fictional but all agree to go along with the plot no matter how bizarre. In this way no harm is done and a-good-time-is-had-by-all, but sometimes on the path you will find yourself in the audience of a stranger to you, and he or she is about to channel messages from ascended masters. Everyone in the audience appears to be excited at the prospect of what they are about to hear, and so with an open mind you sit and wait. The stranger has charm and is used to being in front of audiences. He or she announces the arrival of each ascended master and then continues to speak as if it is now the ascended master that speaks instead of the channel. But how can you know whether this is genuine psychic channelling or simply a performance by one of the members of Madam Zelda's advanced workshop? The truth is that you can't tell. But it doesn't really matter because wherever you get knowledge and information you won't just accept it as true until you personally have tested it. The audience may be in raptures to be told that they are the specially, chosen volunteers who will save mankind and so on. But you aren't in the audience to have your ego boosted. You are there to learn something that previously you didn't know. Otherwise you could have stayed at home. So you put all information from others on 'hold' until you can quietly test it with your self-developed intuitional link in meditation.

IF YOU BELIEVE THAT YOU'LL BELIEVE ANYTHING!

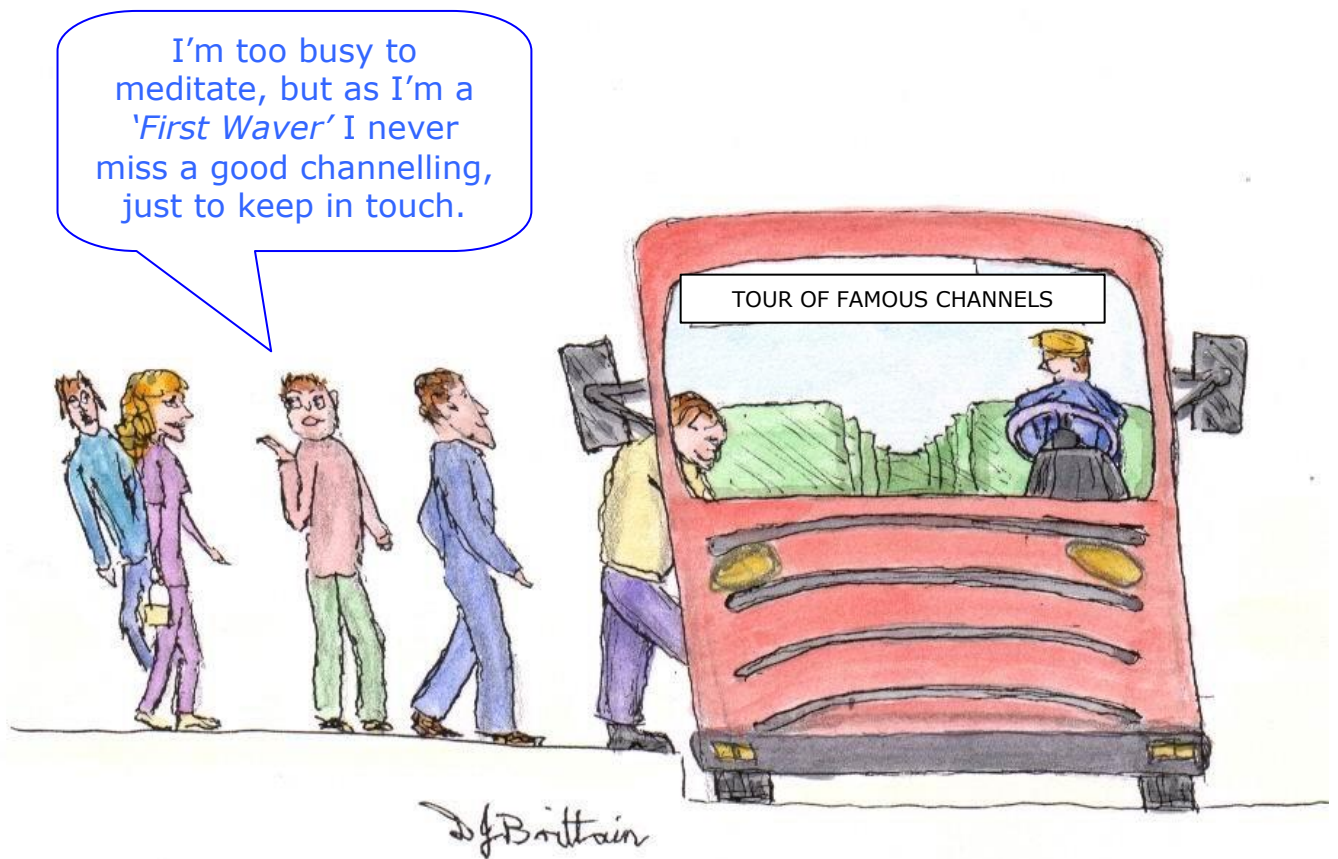

It's all there if you want it
and if you believe there are shortcuts to Ascension
But
If you believe that you'll believe anything.

"Ascension departure lounge"

It's difficult to imagine life without Earthly attachments when we recall that Most of human physical existence consists of the daily chores of maintenance. For example, sleeping, feeding, working, and keeping ourselves clean, and healthy, and occupied with our daily lives and relationships. When released from all of these Pattern-like repetitive chores with what shall we replace them?

ASCENSION MIND GAMES

It takes a great deal of determination and effort to 'stay-the-course' of the path to ascension. When we allow it to happen there are so many distractions in our busy physical lives that may draw us away from regularly entering our still quiet centre in meditation. Often a seeker may believe that he or she is making the required spiritual efforts by seeking out groups of like-minded folks all drawn to the effortless audience role of listening whilst a psychic channel links them to this or that ascended master. The ascended masters can only offer advice and encouragement having probably ascended many times, but they cannot do it for us and so they cannot be a substitute for the seeker's personal and conscious efforts to develop his, or her, own psychic links. To believe otherwise is to play Ascension mind games.

BY ANY OTHER NAME.

Always I urge the seeker to learn to love him or her self, and to take pride in and feel joyful simply because you are unique" YOU" un-repeated throughout Creation. Regardless of the opinions of others, or of your low opinion of you in the past, at any instant in time you have the freewill choice to really believe that you are unique and very special. When you believe this you will choose to live your life as if you believe it. You will fill your life with light and your light will then begin to transform those around you. This isn't easy because we are all conditioned to base our opinions of self upon the high or low opinions of us of those around us. But it is you not they that must exist with you during each moment that passes. So learn to enjoy being "YOU".

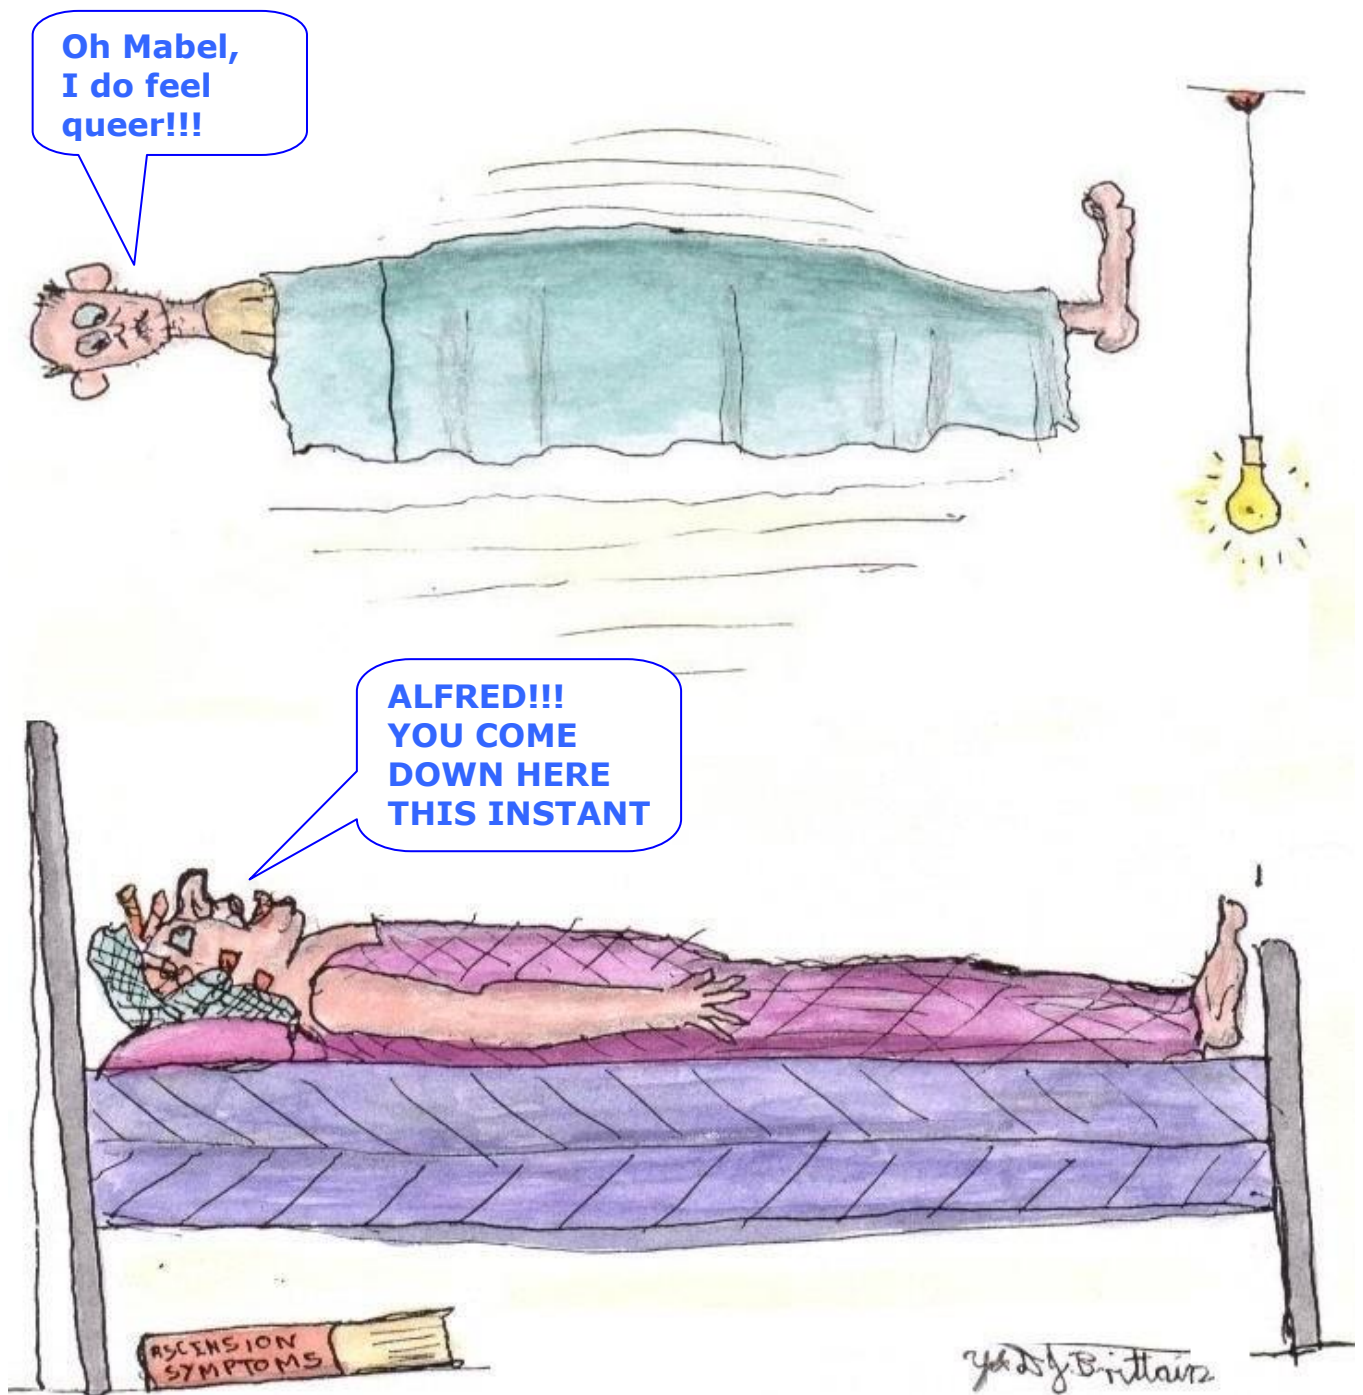

As a seeker in contact with other seekers you will meet those who long to be more than they are. In their failure to realise their own uniqueness they feel that they need some special title or a name that sounds spiritual to convince and impress others with their spirituality. Don't ever feel this need or be intimidated by those that do feel it, because they, not you, have got it wrong. A psychically received spiritual name is not an award for merit. It is just a tactfully offered tool to shatter the recipient's old, obsolete, fixed image of self, a new name a new image. But your use of a special title or a spiritual name could alienate the very people you long to help.

The Ascension Social Club

As workers for the light everything becomes ordinary and commonplace if we allow our sense of wonder and purpose to become blunted. Equally it is delightful to mingle and share with like-minded folk, and this applies to all groups including Ascension Process groups. The danger is when for the group members the purpose of the group is swamped by the social aspects of the gathering.

Oh! Those Ascension Symptoms

By now we all have experienced the symptoms induced by the Ascension Process. Some of the symptoms are pleasant and some are not so pleasant but as we move along the process these different symptoms disappear. We have to go-with-the-flow instead of resisting the flow and then the process becomes easier to live with. If you feel the sudden need to sleep then sleep, if convenient of course. Aches and pains and dizzy sensations that come and go might have a physical cause but are more likely the effect of the speeding up process on the physical metabolism.

It's a hard world

By now you will have discovered that nothing is made easy for those that choose to follow the Ascension Path. The difficulty is that we workers for the light have to exist amid and surrounded by folks that have no idea why they exist. Not only do they have no idea they also cannot see that it has any relevance to their daily lives. For we on the path this means that we have to live on two levels simultaneously, a level that encompasses the greater picture, and a level that allows us all to relate to those countless folk that have no greater picture who surround us. The strange part of this situation is that each worker for the light, by example and word, quietly affects and transforms the widespread unawareness with which he or she is surrounded.

You'd never guess it Dearie, but last night I spoke at a conference held by El Moyra on the Ashtar command ship!!!

Appearances

Most of us are fooled by appearances. A person earns his or her living by doing a menial job and so we tend to list them as unimportant in our cerebral catalogue. All of us workers for the light could look much deeper into everyone that we meet. Then we would see the glorious light of their souls and realize what deep love, inner strength, determination and courage it takes to carry on day after day working at a repetitive task to earn the daily bread for loved ones and for self.

Ascension is for everyone without exceptions no matter what their status in society, or their colour, race, or creed. Please do not allow yourself to be fooled by a person's appearance or manner. What you think you see are the layers of protective scar tissue gained through many physical existences that hides the soul lights of the walking wounded. Rest assured those soul lights are still glowing in there waiting to be triggered to incandescence by a kind word and a genuine smile from you.

On the right, a mechanical, box-like creature with a single leg and a small arm is shown. It has 'ASH-TAR VENDING' written on its front and is emitting smoke and lightning bolts. In the foreground, two men with halos (Jesus and John the Baptist) are looking up at the scene. The signature 'J. Brittain' is in the bottom left corner.
